SANGUINARY BATTLES

Were Those Between the Sheriff's Posse and Indians.

In the Second Fight Ten Indians Were Killed and a Number Taken Prisoners--Sheriff Miller And Posse Were Ambuscaded, the Officer and Deputy Killed.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 2.—A report from Lusk, Wyo., says that a battle occurred near the Horseshoe ranch between a posse from that place and a large body of Indians. Ten Indians are reported to have been killed and 10 were taken prisoners. The members of the posse escaped without injury and after the battle scattered the Indians in every direction, the majority of the fugitives heading in the direction of the Rosebud reservation.

Indian couriers have been dispatched to the reservation and to the bands of hunters to incite them to violence and there is some fear that a general uprising may be precipitated. There is no apprehension for the safety of ranchers in the vicinity of the battle, as the field is filled with posses and all Indians are on the dead run for South Dakota. The posse which engaged in the first fight came into Lusk with 13 prisoners, 10 of them wounded. Three of the wounded cannot live and a fourth is a squaw.

Deputies Hickney and Davis arrived at Newcastle yesterday morning with the bodies of Sheriff Miller and Deputy Sheriff Falkenberg, who were killed in the first battle.

The posse in charge of the prisoners and wounded at Lusk tell the details of Sheriff Miller and Deputy Falkenberg's deaths. The sheriff and five deputies had been on the trail of the Indians for several days, and a few days ago captured five wagon loads of squaws and sent them to Newcastle. Saturday afternoon the posse met Eagle Feather and his band and commanded that they surrender.

Eagle Feather refused, and Sheriff Miller and deputies retreated, not being sufficiently strong to risk a fight with the reds. Visiting the ranches in reach, Sheriff Miller swore in deputies until his posse numbered 12 men, in addition to himself. They cut across country and headed the reds off, stopping them near the heaven dams on Lightning Creek. The warriors had stopped for the night in a tract of bad lands and evidently expected to be overtaken. Sheriff Miller again commanded them to surrender, but Eagle Feather again refused, and Black Kettle, a noted Sioux warrior and bad man, fired on the sheriff. Dusk was falling, and in the darkness a pitched battle began. The Indians fired rapidly, but were wild, the white men deliberately and with steady aim. The battle devolved into a skirmish, the combatants firing from behind tufts of bunch grass, from gullies and from blighted depressions in the ground. For an hour the shots followed one another closely, spurts of flame cutting through darkness like lightning flashes, while the demoniac whoops of the Indians and the chanting death song of the wounded added weirdness to the scene.

At the first fire Black Kettle, standing conspicuously in the open, fell and expired without a groan. The coolness of the white men won the fight, their time was given wholly to shooting to kill; they required no yelling demonstration to keep up their courage. As warrior after warrior fell confusion seized the Indians, and they fired more wildly toward the flashes that revealed the whereabouts of the white men, and forgetting their cunning, exposed themselves to the deadly aim of the ranchmen. A bullet took Falkenberg squarely in the neck, tearing a gaping wound that almost divided his head from his body. He died almost instantly.

LARGE REWARD

Offered by Santa Fe Railroad for Evidence to Convict Persons of Train Wrecking.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—A reward of $5,000 has been offered by the management of the Santa Fe railroad for evidence sufficient to convict the person guilty of wrecking train No. 6 on October 30, near Flower, Colo. This action is the beginning of a campaign by the company by which it is hoped to make train hold-ups a serious matter for those attempting them.

Owing to the fact that no one was killed in the wreck the reward is considered extremely liberal and one which is likely to bring results in the western country.

If it is desired to heat bakers' rolls, leave them in the bag in which they came, and twisting it up tightly, place it in the oven. The rolls will plump up as soft and fresh as when first purchased.

KILLS FRIEND

By Accident—Sidney Man Snaps His Pistol in Jest, but With Fatal Result.

Sidney, O., Nov. 2.—Ralph Moore, 21, was accidentally shot by his best friend, Ross Cromer. Moore had just purchased a revolver, and in showing it to his friend, pointed the weapon at him and laughingly remarked, "Hands up."

For reply Cromer drew a small revolver, and pulled the trigger, killing Moore almost instantly.

Cromer claims that he took the cartridges out of his pistol last night and does not remember putting them back. He is prostrated over the sad occurrence.

CUBAN CONGRESS

Meets in Regular Session—President Palma Sends His Message—Relations With United States

Havana, Nov. 3.—The regular session of congress opened yesterday afternoon. The recommendations in the message of President Palma are chiefly of a general character.

The much discussed loan taxes are not gone into at length, and no amendment to the loan law is suggested.

Referring to the relations between Cuba and the United States, the message says:

"Our political relations with the United States have been definitely settled by treaties founded on the terms of the constitutional appendix, and the latter could not be eliminated from the constitution by the mere reading of these treaties.

"Congress can appreciate that within the precise terms of the Platt amendment Cuba has obtained no few advantages."

WOUNDED BEAR LED THEM TO A GOLD FIND.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 2.—Two prospectors named Phillips and Ruschman while prospecting in a canyon in the San Bernardino mountains, had their camp raided by a bear. The animal grabbed a sack containing their entire supply of bacon and made off up the canyon.

The men gave chase and succeeded in wounding the animal, which then dropped the bacon. They followed him and two miles up the canyon they came upon the bear dead beside a small stream.

While examining the animal one of the men caught the glitter of something in the stream. An investigation showed it to be gold. Some of the gravel was panned and the men are now taking out $100 per day with the pan.

KIDNAPS

His Child at Springfield—Wealthy Californian Takes Daughter by Force in Ohio City.

Springfield, C., Nov. 3.—Oliver Gilson, a wealthy real estate dealer of Pasadena, Cal., successfully kidnaped his 12 year old daughter last evening at the temporary home of his young wife in this city. He was detected in the act by his wife, and her screams aroused the neighborhood, but Gilson succeeded in bearing off the child bare headed to his hotel.

Gilson's wife was Miss Florence McGuire, who is said to have separated from him recently.

GRAND DUKE

Of Russia Ran Down and Killed the Coachman of a German Baron—Causes Embarrassment.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The Grand Duke Cyril of Russia, while driving a motor car with the divorced Grand Duchess of Hesse at Coburg, yesterday ran down and killed Baron Duergens's coachman. The accident has made the grand duke, according to German laws, liable to three years' imprisonment, but the authorities are hesitating, not knowing what to do under the circumstances.

The Grand Duke Cyril is only three lives removed from the Russian throne, and any action taken against him, it is feared, might rise the animosity of Russia, which would be a catastrophe, especially at this time, when everything seems favorable for an arrangement of rapprochement between the two countries as a result of the czar's visit to Emperor William at Wiesbaden.

WIDOW

Of the Late Thomas A. Hendricks Died at Her Indianapolis Home Monday Night.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Thomas A. Hendricks, widow of the late vice president, died last night.

Mrs. Hendricks was born in North Bend, O., in 1823. She was married in 1845 to the late vice president, Thomas A. Hendricks, and about this time became very popular in Cincinnati society. She then moved here with her husband. She had never been in ill health until three weeks ago, when she was stricken with paralysis.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Herman, of Alabama, who was unable to come to her sister's bedside; a brother, Stephen Morgan, who arrived from his home in Sunnyside, Cal., yesterday afternoon; a niece, Mrs. Pittsburgh Thornton, of Fernbank, O., and several nephews in California.

FEAR WAR WITH RUSSIA.

Port Arthur, Nov. 3.—It is learned that three well-known Japanese journalists have resigned their editorial posts rather than advocate war between Russia and Japan, as they were instructed to do. They are convinced that such a clash would mean the ruin of Japan.

ELECTION BULLETINS

Good Weather Generally Reported—Prospect of Large Vote in Many Places.

CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 3.—The sky was overcast with clouds early this morning but later the sun appeared and the weather is now ideal for election day. The polls opened at 6 o'clock and immediately a heavy vote began to be polled in the downtown wards where the registration is large. The indications are that almost the entire registered vote will be cast in these wards. There were numerous challenges but no trouble has been reported. Reports from the hill tops are to the effect that a large vote is being polled. There are 298 precincts in the county, all but 69 of which are in the city. The polls will close at 4 o'clock. Enthusiastic Republicans claim that their ticket will be elected by not less than 20,000 plurality.

CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, Nov. 3.—As far as heard from, the weather is fine all over the state and a very heavy vote was cast early. Hamilton county, it is expected, will go Republican by 20,000. Lucas and Franklin counties are in doubt and the Democrats can see no reason why Johnson should run behind his plurality of 6,000 in Cuyahoga, which he showed last spring.

OHIO.

Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—Headquarters here report the weather ideal all over the state. Confident Republicans predict Herick's election by 60,000 or better and a Republican legislature with a majority of 35 on joint ballot. A bet of $10,000 that Herick will have 75,000 plurality has been untaken for hours.

NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 3.—Voting is progressing rapidly and quietly today. The weather is mild and fair and a full vote is coming out. Superintendent of Elections Morgan came to his office at 2 o'clock this morning and will remain on duty all day. He has hundreds of men out on watch for floaters. Two hundred men and half a dozen patrol wagons are in reserve at police headquarters ready for any emergency. During the first few hours of balloting good order prevailed and the prospects were that this state of affairs would continue.

BOSTON.

Boston, November 3.—The Democrats express satisfaction with the outlook. Not for years have they worked so hard or canvassed the state so thoroughly. If the weather is good there will be a large vote. While the Democrats are hopeful the Republicans are confident.

IOWA.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 3.—Contrary to predictions cloudy weather prevailed throughout Iowa this morning with prospects of rain before the polls closed. Early morning reports from various points indicate that the farmer vote was coming in slowly as a result of these conditions. In this city a good early morning vote was cast. At Democratic headquarters forecasts of a reduced Republican majority were enlarged upon solely because of the weather, but the Republican managers continued to maintain that Cummins and the entire state ticket would be elected by 65,000.

NEBRASKA.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 3.—The apathy which marked the campaign in this state was emphasized when the polls opened this morning. The early morning crowds were unusually thin partly because of lack of interest and partly because of the threatening weather. Only three state officers are to be elected—associate justice of the Supreme Court and two regents of the University of Nebraska.

In the eastern portion of the state it is cloudy and in the western it is fair.

KENTUCKY.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 3.—The election is passing off quietly. The weather is fine and the whole vote will be cast by three o'clock. The Republicans are charging the Democrats with retreating and are making this a pretext to block the vote, but they will not be able to cause sufficient delay to prevent polling the entire vote. Democratic leaders claim election of entire state ticket.

KENTUCKY.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 3.—Reports from all over the state are to the effect that the weather is clear and fine and that large vote is being polled everywhere. Democratic leaders claim Gov. Breckinridge and the entire state ticket will be elected by a safe majority.

LEXINGTON.

Lexington, Nov. 3.—Election day is passing off quietly. The weather is fine and the whole vote was cast by 4 o'clock. The Republicans are charging the Democrats with voting floaters and are trying to block the vote, but are continuing on Page 5.)

BIG STRIKES

Menacing Industrial Situation in Chicago—Likely to Tie Up Five Great Lines of Business.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Strikes which may involve 50,000 men and women and cause suspension of five of the greatest industries of Chicago are threatened this week.

The wage agreement of the glove workers with the Eisendrath Glove company expired Sunday and the new demands have not been granted.

Today is the time limit set by the employees of the Chicago City Railway company for final action on their demands for unionization of the roads and an increase in wages.

On Wednesday the crisis in the Deering plant is expected to come.

The biggest strike of those threatened will be decided by Thursday. That is the threatened tie-up of the stock yards, which may mean a meat famine for Chicago unless the packers make concessions.

WHITE MAN KILLED AND DEVoured BY ALASKAN INDIAN.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 29.—A gruesome case of cannibalism, growing out of superstition, has come to light and has been authenticated by the authorities.

Indians on the Koyukuk river attacked John N. Coy, a prospector, and his partner, whose name is unknown. The latter was killed and Coy was wounded, but escaped. One of the Indians stripped the body of the murdered man and cut off the arms and legs. He then built a fire, cooked the limbs and devoured part of the flesh.

The Indian went down the river to Nulato, where he was arrested by Marshal Robt. Warren and taken before Commissioner Busch. He made a full confession and said:

"White man said no can catch me now."

Later he committed suicide in jail. Marshal Warren is investigating the matter farther and expects to arrest the other Indians implicated.

NEGRO LYNCHED

By His Own People—Colored Posse Takes Murderer from White Men and Hanged Him.

Shreveport, La., Nov. 3.—Joseph Craddock, a negro, was lynched by an infuriated mob composed chiefly of blacks, at Taylortown, 17 miles from Shreveport, last night.

Craddock had brutally murdered two negroes and mortally wounded a third.

Craddock was captured by a small posse of white men, but a crowd of between 250 and 300, composed largely of negroes, took possession of the murderer. He was at once hanged to a tree and burned beneath it after being pronounced dead.

WEDS HER LAWYER

Mrs. Blanche Chesebrough Molinoux Marries Attorney Who Secured Her Divorce.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—As telegraphed to The Advocate yesterday, Mrs. Blanche Chesebrough Molinoux left New York for the West and her object was to meet and wed the young lawyer who secured her divorce in South Dakota.

She met her lawyer, Mr. Wallace D. W. Scott, of Sioux Falls, S. D., in this city, where the marriage license was issued, and the wedding took place yesterday. The couple were registered at the Auditorium Annex.

The names on the marriage license record are: Blanche D. W. Scott and Blanche C. Chesebrough.

Blanche Chesebrough is the name of Mrs. Roland B. Molinoux, the man who was tried and acquitted in New York for the murder of Mrs. Adams in that city, who died from poison, sent to the home of the woman, in broad daylight.

Wallace D. Scott is the name of the attorney who won for Mrs. Molinoux her divorce, who, after the acquittal of her husband, went to South Dakota and remained long enough to establish a residence and won her freedom from the man who she stuck to through two trials for his life.

ANARCHIST

From New York Arrested at Barcelona, Spain—He Intended to Kill King Alfonso.

Madrid, Nov. 3.—Juan Casademunt, the anarchist recently from New York, was arrested at Barcelona. The prisoner had been seen showing he was in a room for London, where he was to make an attempt to kill King Alfonso during the latter's visit to King Carlos of Portugal.

ANOTHER STRIKE ORDERED.

Indianapolis, Nov. 3.—(Bulletin)—At 10 a. m. today President Mitchell ordered a strike in the Colorado mines affecting 12,000 men. The order was issued after the miners had refused to accept the new contract and called off all men of the mine to find and kill all men.

EXTRA SESSION

Of Congress, Which is to Meet Next Monday.

Will be the Fourteenth Extraordinary Session in The History of the Country--New Officers To be Elected by the House--Caucuses Of the Parties.

Washington, Nov. 3.—When Congress meets next Monday to consider the question of reciprocity with Cuba, it will be the fourteenth extraordinary session in the history of the country. The last previous extraordinary session was that convened by President McKinley on March 15, 1897, the result of which was the passage of the Dingley tariff law. Although the particular purpose of the present session is the passage of a joint resolution to make effective the terms of Cuban reciprocity treaty passed by the senate last spring there is nothing to prevent the taking up of other matters. As this is the beginning of a new Congress—the fifty-eighth—it will be necessary for the house to elect new officers. The Republican and Democratic caucuses for the nomination of these officers will be held on Saturday. The Republicans will meet in the hall of the House at noon, the Democrats in the evening. The Republicans will elect a presiding officer of the caucus to succeed Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, who will be nominated as speaker.

General Grosvenor of Ohio, is believed to be slated to succeed him. Besides the speakership, the other House offices will be filled. The incumbents will be chosen to succeed themselves. They are: Alexander McDowell of Pennsylvania, clerk; Henry Casson, of Wisconsin, sergeant at arms; F. B. Lyon, of New York, doorkeeper; Jos. C. McElroy, of Ohio, postmaster; Rev. Henry M. Couden, of Michigan, chaplain. The Democratic caucus will be presided over by Representative Hay of Virginia. There will be a contest for the nomination for speaker, which carries with it the floor leadership, and Representative Williams of Mississippi will probably be chosen.

For the compliment of the Democratic nomination for the other officers of the House the same men will probably be selected who were given that empty honor two years ago—ex-Representative Kerr of Pennsylvania, for clerk; ex-Representative Brookshire, of Indiana, sergeant at arms; James S. Jackson of Alabama, postmaster; and Rev. E. S. Bagley of Virginia, chaplain.

The Republicans being in control of the House, their ticket will of course, be chosen at the session on Monday. Senator Frye of Maine, will continue as president pro tem of the Senate.

HOLLAND TRAGEDY

A Soldier Killed His Colonel, Being Selected by the Regiment for the Purpose.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The Tagelblatt today reports that while a regiment was drilling at Vitna, Holland, one of the soldiers stepped out from the ranks and hacked his colonel to pieces with a sword. The regiment cheered the act.

An investigation, says the paper, reveals the fact that the colonel had been condemned to die by the soldiers and that the murderer had been selected by lot.

She comes of a long-time Quaker ancestry, her father, J. J. Hill, being prominent in Quaker circles in Indiana, and more recently in Oklahoma.

EXTENT OF DAMAGES

Caused by the Awful Explosion at Crestline—Affair is the Worst of its Kind in the History of Railroad.

Crestline, O., Nov. 3.—The damages from the terrible explosion here Sunday evening are still the subject of interest pervading almost the entire country. Superintendent Whiter, who arrived here early yesterday morning, said the accident was the worst in the history of railroading. Regarding the extent of the damage, he said:

"It is absolutely impossible to tell what the damage will amount to until it is ascertained how many cars have been burned and what their contents were. I think there were 150, and probably more, cars completely destroyed, and many others are rendered entirely useless. I can assign no possible cause for the explosion, and we will undoubtedly never be able to place the blame. I think the cars which exploded contained dynamite, but they are called as high explosives."

A conservative estimate of the Pennsylvania loss is placed at $500,000 to $750,000. The following persons occupied residences within a radius of a half mile of the explosion, which were almost completely wrecked, the losses running from $800 to $1,000: F. Nussmeier, Edward Long, W. Hoffman, Jacob Buck, Frank Greifenstein, Abraham Koonitz, Sam Schumacher and Warren Hight.

No less than 25,000 strangers came to Crestline to visit the scene of the wreck and many special cars and trains were run from nearby towns on electric and steam roads. The streets here today, left for the ruin and destruction, resembled a monster free fair and large crowds are in the city late the evening to the train and was about to take the signal to start when a explosion occurred. The train was stopped. The explosion was heard by the hands and feet of the crowd, and the train was stopped. The explosion was heard by the hands and feet of the crowd, and the train was stopped.

The train which contained the cars which exploded was a passenger train, and all efforts to save the passengers in charge of the train were made. The train was stopped at the explosion, and the passengers were rescued. The train was stopped at the explosion, and the passengers were rescued.

GRANVILLE

BOLD CHICKEN THIEF CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Oyster Supper—Fell From Haymow—Entertainment—Personals and Items of Interest.

Granville, O., Nov. 3.—For some time past rumors have been coming in of the depredations of chicken thieves on the outskirts of the village, and owners of chickens have been more than usually vigilant in order that they might detect the rascals. At a late hour last Friday night Guy and Paul Orectt, who reside on Plum street, opposite Shephardson college, were awakened by a tremendous cackling among their chickens. They hurried out to the chicken house, where they were so fortunate as to capture a young opossum that had strayed away from his usual haunts in search of chicken. The boys have caged the little animal and say they are going to make a pet of him. The capture of the opossum probably explains the mystery that has surrounded the disappearance of chickens in different parts of the town from time to time, and proves that the thieves have been fear-fogged once.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the past week was the oyster supper given by Mr. Martin James at his home on College street on Friday evening for his friend, Mr. D. B. Griffith, of Lorain, and the family of Mr. John Fair, who occupy the house. There were about twenty persons who partook of the hospitality of Mr. James and in addition to the supper a splendid social time was had by all. There was singing, in both English and Welsh, while the graphophone added to the enjoyment of the evening.

HOT CRICKET PLAYER, SO HE'S ALL RIGHT ON ENGLISH CABINET.

ALFRED LYTTELTON, NEW COLONIAL SECRETARY IS A GOOD, ALERT BUSINESS MAN—NEW WAR SECRETARY, ARNOLD FORSTER, IS A PUBLISHER.

London, Nov. 3.—About the only little thing that the Tory papers could think of to say in behalf of the untutored young man, Alfred Lyttleton, who has been thrust in to fill Jos Chamberlain's shoes, is that he was a famous cricketer and a crack tennis player. It was a more potent recommendation, however, that it would be in the United States, as can be judged from a personal illustration. A novelist whose name is as well known in America as in England, told the writer the other day that he had just selected a school for his young son after a long and careful study of the matter.

"And is the method of education more up to date than at the others?" I asked him.

He put in an average 14 hours a day in preparing the figures with which Mr. Chamberlain has enforced his speeches. With his short experience in the colonial office everyone of the subordinate officers marveled at the ready grasp of the situation which the duke displayed. He not only worked hard himself, but he insisted that every clerk in the colonial office should do the same. He became such a hustler that the friendly relations he had

"Oh, about the same, I suppose, but you mark my word, the best cricketers in England are going to come from that school in the future."

Thus it was that the Times and other sedate journals have pointed out how pleased the colonies will be at the unexpected choice of so great a player of cricket.

But underneath is a suspicion that the new colonial secretary is a level-headed, alert business man who happens to know a lot about all of the colonies and who will not be a mere figurehead.

One feature of the appointment is the fact that, as the new secretary is not a peer, his under secretary, W. K. Verelst, a great sportsman, will not have to resign. The secretary is supposed to represent his department in one house of parliament and the under secretary in another, and so it would not ordinarily do to have them both in the house of lords.

In this connection I hear of strange doings of late in the colonial office, of which the little duke of Marlborough was the chief, from the time Mr. Chamberlain retired until Mr. Lyttleton came in. The duke's recent reported conversion to the creed of hard work not only holds good, but the zeal of himself cultivated with the staff were somewhat imperilled a few days ago and an open revolt was threatened.

The only other cabinet appointment of general interest that of Mr. Arnold Forster to succeed poor Mr. Brodrick in the almost hopeless task of converting red tape into efficiency at the war office, seems to be really promising, notwithstanding the objection that he isn't much of an athlete, that his father wasn't titled, and that he earns his living in business. He is a director in the private publishing firm of Cassell & Co., is the author of half a dozen books, was of genuine help in stirring up the navy department when he was parliamentary secretary to the admiralty, and has been an outspoken and unflinching critic of the war office. He is 48.

It is significant of the spirit of awakening in England that if it were not for the ancient Lord Halsbury, who is 78 years old and quite deaf to all hints that it is time for him to resign the post of lord chancellor, the average age of the cabinet would be about that of the new colonial secretary—47. Even as it is, the average is now only 53—rather less, is I am not mistaken, than that of the American cabinet.

WOMAN HELD

On Forgery Charge—Salvation Army Worker Identified as Person Who Passed Bogus Checks.

Zanesville, O., Nov. 3.—Mrs. Grace Ethell, of the Salvation Army, was held to the grand jury in $500 bond on a charge of forgery, after a preliminary examination in police court Monday morning.

Mrs. Ethell is charged with forging the name of C. W. Morrison, a local saloonkeeper, to a check for $200 which was cashed at the Dresden National bank, October 17.

The Dresden bank officials identified Mrs. Ethell as the woman who cashed the $200 check under the name of "Minnie Dunnead."

She was identified also by the officials of the other Dresden banks as the woman who attempted to cash a $500 check to which the name of C. Stolzenbach, the manager of the local branch of the National Biscuit company, had been forged.

Morrison testified that last January another check had been presented and cashed by "Minnie Dunnead" whom Morrison says he never knew.

A startling fact which has recently been demonstrated is that the equator is not a perfect circle. If you could drop a plumb line from Ireland through to New Zealand it would be somewhat longer than another which cut the earth at right angles to it. The difference has not yet been ascertained with absolute accuracy.

NOW COMPLETE

IS SUB-STATION OF INTERURBAN AT PLEASANT VALLEY.

Work All Along the Line Progressing Nicely—Will be Finished By Christmas.

The sub-station of the interurban line at Pleasant Valley is now complete, the finishing touches having been added Saturday, says the Zanesville Signal. The engineer in charge of the work, L. O. Marble, after having seen that everything was in working order, left Saturday for his home in London, O.

This station along the route from Newark is what is known as a transforming station, that is a station where the high voltage is reduced and the surplus electricity is stored.

This step is only one of the many that mark the approach to completion of the interurban line. The grades have already reached a point just west of the city along the Licking river and with another week's work will have reached the city limits. The road bed up to that point is completed and the rails are laid some distance this side of Nashport. The engineers of the road state that the work is progressing as nicely as could be desired and all indications point to a fulfillment of the prediction that there would be cars running into the city from Newark and Columbus by Christmas time.

NEW YORK TIME.

It is the Standard Used in All Our Weather Bureau Stations.

When we read a report from any of the 160 regular weather bureau stations throughout our land bringing the information that a rainstorm, a tornado or some other meteorological phenomenon began at a certain hour we need not suppose that the hour mentioned refers to the time at the place where the observation was made. The hour given is the exact New York time, for every clock at the regular weather bureau stations all over the land is set to the seventy-fifth meridian, or eastern standard time, which is exactly five hours behind Greenwich time.

Only this standard of time is used in the text of the Monthly Weather Review, and all weather bureau observers are required to record observations by it. The reason for this is that the best scientific deductions from the weather reports must be based upon the conditions of the atmosphere existing simultaneously in different parts of the country.

It would be very ludicrous if all the hundreds of reports sent daily had to be changed at the central office in Washington from local to eastern time, and so all the regular observers are required to use the New York, or eastern time, in making their reports.

There are many volunteer observers and newspaper correspondents who in reporting weather phenomena use other standards of time. If the weather bureau has occasion to use their reports the time is often corrected to agree with the eastern standard or the local standard is mentioned.—Detroit Free Press.

Women Who Dress Like Men.

Tourists in the Austrian Tyrol and the remotest regions of the Swiss Alps of dress come across strange peculiarities of dress, especially among the females in those out of the way places. In the little village of Champéry, which nestles almost under the frowning Dent du Midi, the women dress like men and may often be seen in the fields. Naturally they are objects of much interest to tourists, but the women do not seem to be at all uncomfortably conscious of the peculiarity of their garb. The peasants of Champéry are a simple, kindly folk, and doubtless find this novel dress more accommodating to the hard work they have to do.

Poor Conditions.

"Ask papa tonight," suggests the gentle girl to her adorer. "He is in such a good humor because he got the better of some man in a business transaction today."

The adorer shakes his head doubtfully. "I believe I'd better not," he sighs. "I am the man he got the better of, and he would be sure to say that he couldn't let his daughter marry a man so unsuccessful."—Judge.

Tells How.

"And aren't you married yet?"

"No."

"Well, well! I thought you were engaged to a certain young lady in Germantown?"

"No! I was engaged to an uncertain young lady, and that's why I'm not married!"—Exchange.

America is now exporting about $7,000,000 worth of shoes a year, of which Great Britain gets one-third.

Surprises That Seem Probable in Modes to Come—Favorite Materials for Building Fall Gowns—Stylish Autumn Hats and Their Birds.

Dress has become immoderately elaborate and there is everywhere an inclination to overstep the laws of refined common sense that usually mark desirable modes. For this reason it is no surprise that fashion authorities find it within the range of possibility that the incoming season will reveal a something unexpected in the way of introducing a more severe style of gar-

COSTUMES IN CLOTH AND SERGE.

This may, perhaps, be perfected by a combination of unique style and rich simplicity. Still it is yet premature to anticipate any radical innovation.

For autumn black and white tweeds make useful dresses and plaids promise to be worn. Cloth and serge in styles such as those of the cut, which shows a costume of dark and light brown cloth and another of blue serge with white stitchings, lawn frills and an underbodice, represent some of the various modes.

Head gear is, of course, an important autumn consideration. The French sailor represents a popular and becoming shape. The one shown in the cut is in dark blue felt, flat, the brim turning up and draped with a shot blue and green ribbon. A large puff bow of silk adorns the back of the crown and a dark blue bird rests gracefully on the top. It is a smart confection with a Prussian air.

The predictions are for great use of birds the coming season, but these are Correction.

The item published in the Advocate regarding the entertainment by Miss Corinne Metz, at her home of the Chi Psi Deltas of Granville, and their gentlemen friends proves to have been erroneous. DOWIE'S ZIONISTS

Finish Their Mission in New York and Return to Their Illinois Home—One Special Went Through Newark Today—Dowie to Remain a Few Days Longer.

New York, Nov. 3.—Dowie "Restoration Host" has shaken the dust of New York off its feet.

It was a sadder, but a wiser lot of Zionites that pulled out of the city yesterday morning on their way back to Dowie's own little town in Illinois.

Special trains were run over various roads to take the followers of Dowie back to Zion. When they came here the party was 4,000 strong.

There had been so many who had become disgusted with their experiences and had gone home early that only 2,000 had to be taken back today.

There was probably never a sicker looking lot of people left this city on special trains. If the patients in all the hospitals were turned loose at once and escorted to the railroad stations they would have not looked more forlorn and ill.

It has cost each one of the 4,000 who came here an average of $50 each for railroad fare, two weeks' board, lodging and street car fare, as well as incidentals.

In addition to this personal expense, it is estimated that Dowie himself has spent about $125,000 out of the church funds.

The net result of the two weeks' crusade that was to reform New York has been the baptism of 57 persons.

As a matter of fact only 12 of these came from New York.

When Dowie saw that his mission was to be a disastrous failure, he hurriedly drafted into service all the children from Zion that had not yet been baptized and added them to the list of band.

Mr. Vogelmeier says he was dreaming and thought he had been elected to congress and that the band was serenading him.

Attorney W. D. Fulton, on behalf of the members of the Tribe, presented Mr. Vogelmeier with a handsome rocking chair, in a few well-chosen remarks, to which Mr. Vogelmeier briefly responded.

A fine supper followed, which was much enjoyed by all.

DOWIE SPECIAL IN NEWARK.
One of the special trains bearing "Prophet" John Alexander Dowie's restoration host back to Zion City, Chicago, from New York, passed through Newark as second B. & O. No. 7, at about 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. The train stopped long enough at the depot to allow some of the "host" to get out on the platform and stretch their travel-weary legs, and many took advantage of the opportunity.

A crowd of curious were at the depot to watch the arrival and departure of the train, and were disappointed that those of the followers of the self-styled prophet who showed themselves, as far as physical appearance was concerned did not differ greatly from any well-to-do Newark business man. No freaks were visible and the short time the train was at the depot was spent by those who got off the train in passing literature among the throng on the platform. This literature consisted principally of a four-page pamphlet carrying a fine half-tone engraving of Dowie, with an extract from one of his addresses on "The Gospel of Healing and How I Began to Preach It."

After changing engines, the special pulled out for Chicago in charge of Conductor Ed Raymond.

Mr. Vogelmeier says he was dreaming and thought he had been elected to congress and that the band was serenading him.

Attorney W. D. Fulton, on behalf of the members of the Tribe, presented Mr. Vogelmeier with a handsome rocking chair, in a few well-chosen remarks, to which Mr. Vogelmeier briefly responded.

GERMANY'S NAVY.

The Kaiser's Policy For a Mighty Fleet of War Vessels.

The following is Germany's naval programme which was to be completed by 1916, but the work has been so hastened that the maximum strength of the fleet will be reached before that year: Thirty-eight battle ships, fourteen large cruisers and thirty-eight small cruisers. In accordance with the emperor's scheme six more large cruisers and seven smaller ones were demanded for use on foreign stations, but this portion of the programme could not be carried through the reichstag, and for the present it has been dropped, but only for the time.

Germany pins her fortunes to the battle ship of moderate dimensions and on a small displacement arranges a heavy gun power, and except as scouts to the great fighting ships she spends little or no money on cruisers. She has four armored cruisers of just over 9,000 tons in hand, but one searches in vain for levitations of 14,100 and 14,800 tons, which figure in the plans of Great Britain and the United States. Germany knows that she has not a long purse, and she knows that the next naval war will be decided by battle actions. Since she cannot afford to prepare for the sea fight and also make provision for protecting her commerce with war cruisers she concentrates attention on the battle which will decide the issues of a quarrel, and her armed merchantmen will have to render what aid they can to her shipping.

In 1906, when the numerical strength of the fleet will have been doubled, the task of replacing the older battle ships will be taken in hand, and long before 1916, in addition to the vessels which will have been built as net additions to the fleet, Germany will have seventeen new first class battle ships, ten large cruisers of the armored type and twenty-nine smaller cruisers. Consequently, when the scheme is completed, the first line of the German navy will comprise thirty-eight battle ships, the oldest dating back no farther than 1898; fourteen large and thirty-eight smaller cruisers and also the ships she possessed in 1898 when she began the great scheme of augmentation.

The bedrock on which the emperor is building is this: Germany, owing to the many claims she has to meet for her predominating army, her colonies and her protective commercial system, cannot hope to have a fleet to equal that of Great Britain, but it must be ship for ship more efficient than any navy afloat, and in this manner its inferiority may be minimized and even wiped out. "Germany," to quote from the navy act, "must have a fleet of such strength that even for the mightiest power a war with her would jeopardize its own supremacy."—Archibald S. Hurd in Cassier's Magazine.

The Snap Shot.

The recent fatal eruption of the Waimangu geyser, in northern New Zealand, will be of interest, particularly to those who have seen the geysers of the Yellowstone. A party of thirty-two excursionists were making the tour of the geysers under the control of an experienced guide. Four of them, two ladies and two gentlemen, advanced within twenty feet of the Waimangu geyser basin. The guide shouted to them to come away from such a dangerous position, and so did the mother of the two girls. One of the latter replied, "In a moment, mother; when I have taken this snap shot." The next instant there was a terrific eruption of stones, mud and boiling water to a height of 800 feet. When the steam had cleared away the unfortunate four were nowhere to be seen. They had been hurled into a river of boiling water, and their bodies, fearfully battered, were found a mile away.—Chicago News.

Spain's Lucky Rulers.

That the rulers of Spain are less likely to be killed by assassins than the rulers of other countries a Madrid historian claims, and the statistics which he gives are certainly favorable.

Queen Isabella was attacked on two occasions—by Martinos on Feb. 2, 1852, and by Fuentos on May 28, 1856—yet on neither did she would be assassinated in accomplishing his task. Amadeus I. was attacked in 1872, but escaped, and so did Alfonso XII. when Moncasti and Otero tried to kill him, the former on Oct. 25, 1878, and the latter on Dec. 30, 1879.

Up to date Alfonso XIII., against whom a plot was recently formed, has been equally fortunate, and the Madrid historian is confident that his good fortune will never desert him.

HAPPY WOMEN

Plenty of Them in Newark, and Good Reason For It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy. After years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distress of urinary troubles, She finds relief and cure? No reason why any Newark reader Should suffer in the face of evidence as this:

Mrs. David R. Jones, 23 Poplar avenue says: "Every morning I had such a sharp pain in my kidneys. I was hardly able enough to turn my body to get out of bed. When I kept moving around I did not feel it so much, but if I sat still or laid a while it became quite severe. My husband brought home one day from Crayton's drug store a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and they started them. Imagine my surprise and pleasure when I found they had rid me of the pain in my back and toned my appetite. It's a good thing to be free from backache."

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

The skirt must fit smoothly over the hips.

The founce skirt is at its best in lace or shaded chiffon.

Short boleros of elany or Irish lace, with elbow sleeves, are to be worn over silk blouses.

Little white coats of broadcloth are being sold exclusively for evening wear. This fashion hails from Paris.

Coats which creep gradually and unnoticeably into sleeves, after the ancient "dolman" pattern, are prominent in all smart displays.

Bouton d'or is the name given by French modistes to an evening dress garniture of rosette-like flowers of gold colored ribbon, applied on skirt and bodice.

Browns will be much worn for street costumes during the fall and winter. Coffee brown is a new shade that bids fair to be popular, although the darker browns are more generally becoming.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c at Frank D. Hall's Drug Store.

FIGHT FOR CONTROL BETWEEN MITCHELL AND GOMPERS.

INDICATIONS POINT TO A LIVELY CONVENTION OF THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR—THE BOYCOTT A BURNING QUESTION.

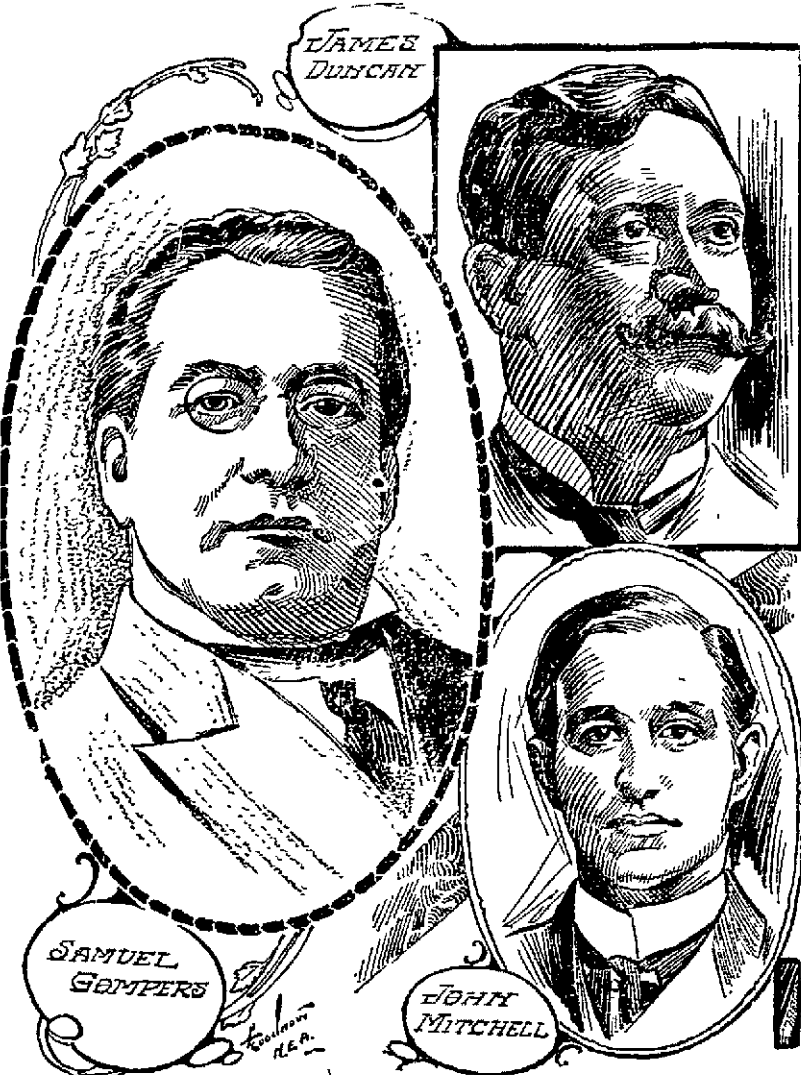

Washington, Nov. 3.—On November 3 the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor—the largest in its history—will be called to order by President Samuel Gompers at historic Faneuil hall in Boston. From that moment on, the fight for control will be waged with unusual bitterness.

John Mitchell is not a candidate for the presidency, although it is intimated that within a year or two he will seek that honor. The man who will try conclusions with President Gompers, and who has the backing of the Mitchell or miners' contingent, is James Duncan, national secretary of the granite cutters and first vice president of the Federation.

Duncan is neither a Socialist nor an extremist, and his policy would differ in but minor details from the one now established. In a political sense the change might be welcomed by the Republican administration, as Mitchell has shown a pronounced friendliness for President Roosevelt, while Gompers

James Lynch, president of the International Typographical union, who is said to be a candidate for the presidency. If Lynch can be brought to go after the secretaryship—and such a proposition is now under consideration—and combine his strength with that of Duncan, Gompers and Morrison would be doomed. Duncan is making a quiet but energetic canvass. President Gompers is making no campaign whatever; if the convention wants him, he will serve, but he is asking for no support.

Another matter in which the general public will take an equal interest is the discussion of the W. A. Miller case and the policy of the "open shop." The leaders, including Gompers and Mitchell, would be only too glad to prevent consideration of the subject, as none cares to go on record either for or against a policy of the national administration. But the Socialists who will be stronger in this convention than in any of the conventions of the past, will insist upon bringing it up and of pers has occupied a neutral position. And Mitchell would be the power behind the A. F. of L. president.

The result of the coming contest cannot be forecast with certainty. The chances, in the convention of more than 500 delegates, favor Duncan. Gompers, himself a cigarmaker, has the support of the cigarmakers, whose union strength is about 35,000. Frank Morrison, the Federation secretary, who must stand or fall with Gompers, is a printer, and behind him stand the 50,000 members of the printers' unions. But the miners, who side with Mitchell, are by far the strongest of the organizations affiliated with the A. F. of L., numbering 147,000. Next in strength are the carpenters, with a membership of 100,000. There has been a controversy between the carpenters and the wood workers, in which the former were held in check by President Gompers. Frank Duffy, their general secretary, is therefore said to be opposed to Gompers' re-election. Other unions have had a remarkable growth in the last year—among them the painters, who now number 65,000; the waiters, who grew from 25,000 to 60,000; the teamsters, whose two unions amalgamated, and who now number 39,000; and upon the stand to be taken by these crafts depends the result of the contest.

Another factor in the fight may be organize a great steel and iron business not so as to prevent, but surely so as to provide against, trade depressions, for there is no business about which there is fuller knowledge.

And there were many facts about the colossal steel corporation that were admirable and attractive. For one thing, it began at once to publish much fuller reports than most corporations have published. It inspired unusual confidence from the beginning. This was to be, if there ever could be, a great industrial corporation which should really take advantage of the economies of consolidation and be managed for the benefit of the stockholders. The greatest financial organizer of our time, perhaps of any time, was identified with it.

Its first president was a man in the full vigor of youth who had had a remarkable career in this business. The great company was launched as no other ever was.

But it was the handiwork of the promoter after all, as hundreds of other great corporations are. The dominant motive in its organization was not the better manufacture of iron and steel nor its cheaper manufacture nor the better handling or marketing of the product nor the steadying of its price, although all these motives played a part. No great improvement has been made in processes or in management by the new corporation. But the dominant motive was to buy out Mr. Carnegie. It was a personal motive rather than what may be called a public motive. It was not the improvement of the industry nor primarily the protection of the owners of these great mills, but promoters' reasons.

In the organization of it definite, conservative values were not set on the property. On the contrary, it was valued at its earning capacity in prosperous times—its maximum earning capacity. Much more than half its capitalized value was fictitious. The whole amount of its common stock—$500,000,000—was water. It represented no real, tangible value, but a calculated value based on earnings at the very maximum rate in prosperous times.

But the purchasers of this stock were not plainly informed of this fact. Every man had to dig this information out for himself and calculate for himself the chance of its permanent or possible value. But the inference was, since honorable men were at the head of the company, that there was a reasonable expectation of continuous dividends on the common stock.

It soon came out that enormous sums were required as fees for the underwriting syndicate. In other words, the promoters took a heroic profit for their risk and trouble. Promoters do not work without pay, nor do great bankers take heavy risks for nothing—truly, but from the beginning of the world no such promoters' profits as these had ever been heard of.

Making great organizations is an exciting game. Few men have heads cool enough to resist such excitement. The president of the great company soon lost his head. He was soon buying and selling a great steel plant on his own account at a fabulous profit. But the business of the great company went on in a prosperous way, and its millions of dividends were paid quarterly. Then a plan was made to convert some of its stock into bonds, leaving the rest of the stock, of course, at a disadvantage. Was this an intimation that a time might come when the stock would receive lessened dividends or no dividends at all? The public began to be suspicious, and the stock began rapidly to fall in the market.

The iron and steel trade has fallen off somewhat, not greatly. It is prosperous yet. But the high tide of the last two years is receding. When the time for declaring dividends comes the dividend on the common stock is cut in two—one-half of 1 per cent per quarter is declared instead of 1 per cent on the common stock.

There were some time ago more than 25,000 persons who had bought this common stock alone—bought it because they were led to believe that it had a good chance to continue to pay 4 per cent dividends a year. Now they are sold truly that the directors are conserving their property by cutting the dividend in two, and they are reminded at the same time that they were very simple dupes ever to buy this stock with the expectation of any dividends at all, which also is true.

The greatest corporation in the world, then, under the most distinguished management, is very like many another. It was a promoters' scheme. In its organization there was a great "take off." Some of its officers were caught in the speculating whirlpool and discredited. Its whole issue of common stock is on a speculative basis.

The public may learn at some time that the organization of factories and mills and industries on the basis of expected earnings in good times is an economic error. This is a gambler's doctrine pure and simple. The fundamental, lasting, economic fact is that organization on such a basis is a capital error. Earning capacity at any given time is a shifting sand bar. There must be something more substantial than this at the base of industrial organization when it becomes wholly honest.

Trick Automobilists.

Although trick automobilists can be found in France and England, this country claims the lead. The accomplishment is peculiarly well adapted to American genius. Another reason for the supremacy of Americans is the greater lightness of the American machines, taken as a class, and their extreme sensitiveness and delicacy of control. It is of course possible to do more with a light car than with a heavy French racer. Another condition leading to the development of trick chauffeurs in America is the encouragement given them by the manufacturers, who favor trials of skill because they serve to exhibit machines and demonstrate to possible purchasers the lightness and facility with which automobiles may be controlled.

There are several tricks which may be classed as favorites among chauffeurs. They are all extremely difficult, but the one which more nearly borders on the marvelous is the watch trick. Only the most expert chauffeurs attempt it, as the cost of failure is the cost of a watch. To drive an automobile against an open watch, to back it and expect to stop the heavy machine just in time to spare the watch, seems impossible, but the feat has often been performed.—Leslie's Weekly.

Cordite Enters.

Quite an original species of narcomania is noted by the British Medical Journal as having been discovered by Major Jennings, D. S. O., during the recent operations in South Africa. It consists in the eating of cordite, with which the Lee-Netford cartridges are charged. The existence of the vice first became known to Major Jennings from the suggestion of a regimental non-commissioned officer that a certain man had possibly been taking cordite in order to escape service, but in concluding his notes Major Jennings suggests that the effects are so exceedingly unpleasant that none but the most depraved would ordinarily resort to it as a stimulant and that no man could escape service through its means except by the exchange of service for incarceration as a hopeless lunatic or for death by suicide.

Slot Machines in Spain.

Shortly after the Spanish-American war, says the World's Work, among the first American novelties sent to Spain were the nickel in the slot machines, the musical kind. Unluckily the first machines played American airs. They were quickly demolished. When the next lot of machines were imported it was carefully advertised in advance that these contrivances would play Spanish airs only. This was taken as a sort of national compliment, and the American slot machines jumped into sudden favor, especially the gambling varieties, as the Spaniards are very fond of all games of chance. In a place like Malaga there are now more than forty such machines, each earning $2.50 daily on the average.

CITY COUNCIL

THE NEW WEHRLER ADDITION TO CITY ACCEPTED.

Merits of Other Additions Discussed—
Mayor Crilly's Monthly Report.
Other Business.

Council met Monday evening with all members present, President Russell presiding.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Clerk Maurath and approved by council.

The street committee submitted their report, which recommends the rejecting of E. H. Everett's Riverside addition and William Jones' sons' addition to the city of Newark and that the name of Vale street be changed to Jackson street. The report was received and filed.

Messrs. Baker and Carlisle, of the street committee, spoke regarding the proposed additions. They stated that they had found the streets to be in very poor condition.

Mayor Crilly's report for the month of October, showing that $268.25 had been collected in fines and licenses, was received and filed.

Mr. Hunter's ordinance to accept E. H. Everett's Riverside addition to the city of Newark was given its second reading.

An ordinance, by Mr. Conrad, to issue bonds to the amount of $3,000, to raise money to pay for the equipping and furnishing of the North Fourth street fire department station, was read for the first time and was referred to the finance committee.

The ordinance for the payment of claims was passed under suspension of the rules.

An ordinance to accept Wehrle's addition to the city was read for the first time. A similar ordinance had been passed by council and was vetoed by the mayor. Giving as his reasons, he stated that the grading of the streets should be done under direction of the city officials and that this contract had not been carried out.

Mr. Moser stated that $5,000 had been spent in grading and improving the streets of the addition. He believed the work has been done as well as if done under the direction of the city authorities.

Judge Hunter advocated the accepting of the addition on general principles. He believed all additions should be accepted and took the opportunity to make a few remarks relative to Everett's Riverside addition. The judge said Mr. Wehrle has done much for Newark and Newark has done as much for Mr. Wehrle. He claimed Mr. Everett has done as much for the good of Newark, while Newark had never assisted him financially or otherwise.

The ordinance was passed under suspension of the rules.

RESOLUTIONS.
By Moser—That $3,484.82 be borrowed in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the construction of sidewalks: first reading.
Council then adjourned.

The funeral will take place from the late home of the deceased in the Cherry valley on Wednesday at one o'clock, and the services will be conducted by the Rev. L. S. Boyce, assisted by Rev. Mr. Patt, of the Baptist church. Interment will be made in the Cedar Hill cemetery.

THE RAILWAYS

Electricity as Motive Power.

One of the interesting phases of rail road operation is the gradual increase of the use of electricity as a motive power by what are recognized as steam roads. Of this the B. & O. is a notable example, as it has been steadily increasing the number of its electric engines.

These monsters are used for pulling freight trains through the long tunnel under the city of Baltimore. Practically all the freight business of the B. & O. passing through that city must be hauled underground for a distance of about three miles. With slow going freight engines the smoke problem becomes a serious one and as a consequence these electric engines have been adopted. The third rail system is used, and so effective is the service rendered that the B. & O. is steadily increasing the number of engines of this class owned.

When a freight train reaches the outer confines of the city of Baltimore, one of these silent movers of freight comes up and latches onto the train, engine and all, and slides it through the tunnel in a jiffy. The engine closes its steam valves and banks the fires so as not to give any annoyance by its smoke, and is thus drawn through the tunnel in an inoffensive manner, ready to resume its services on the other side.

These engines are so built and can be so coupled that any amount of weight can be moved by them. They can be hitched in a series until almost any desired horsepower is attained. Two men can manage half a dozen of these motors so harnessed.

Pennsylvania Dividends.
Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—The directors of the Pennsylvania railroad company met yesterday and declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, payable November 30 to stock of record November 5.

The dividend will be paid on a capitalization approximating in round numbers $289,000,000, an increase over that covered by the May dividend of nearly $85,000,000, that dividend having been paid upon 4,087,619 shares of par value of $204,380,950.

The increase in the capitalization is made by the conversion of $29,276,000 of the $50,000,000 of 1 1/2 per cent convertible bonds into stock at 70 and the exchange of 17,000 shares of Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston railroad stock for that of the Pennsylvania on the basis of 2 1/2 shares of the former for one of the latter, and that portion of the recent $75,000,000 stock allotment that has been fully paid.

Railway Notes.
Several large orders for locomotives have been placed within the last few days and locomotive manufacturers say there is enough work in sight to keep them busy all winter.

The gravel trains on the T. & O. C. were taken off Saturday for the winter, which have been ballasting the road.

INJURED

BY A FALL DOWN A CELLAR STAIRWAY.

Dan L. Jones Meets With an Accident at His Hardware Store Monday Afternoon

Dan L. Jones, the well known hardware merchant, met with an accident Monday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, at his store on the west side of the square. Mr. Jones was going down the cellar steps, when he slipped and fell into the elevator pit alongside of the stairway. He was rendered unconscious for a short time, but regained consciousness and was thought to be only slightly injured. Later in the afternoon, however, he became delirious, and alarming symptoms developed. He was then removed to his home on North Fifth street, and after a time he again somewhat recovered, and passed a comfortable night.

Tuesday morning he was able to be down to the store, although suffering from the thorough shaking up he received.

AT JOHNSTOWN

DEMOCRATS HOLD A ROUSING MEETING MONDAY NIGHT.

Enthusiastic Speeches Made by Attorneys H. H. Sparks and B. F. McDonald of Newark.

The last Democratic meeting of the campaign in Licking county was held at Johnstown on Monday night and was one of the largest and most enthusiastic held this year.

The meeting was held in the town hall and over three hundred of the staunch Democrats of that vicinity were in attendance, while a considerable number of Republicans were also present.

That veteran Democrat, Norman Duxton, was chairman of the meeting, and introduced the speakers of the evening, Attorneys H. H. Sparks and B. F. McDonald, of Newark.

Mr. Sparks was the first speaker. He showed that Frank Monnett was the only attorney general north of the Mason and Dixon line during the past twenty years that has had the nerve to go after the big corporations and to prosecute them for violation of the laws, and it was because of this fact that the Republicans turned him down. He also spoke on the coal trusts and the inequalities of taxes in Licking county.

Mr. McDonald spoke at considerable length on the Philippine question and reviewed the history of Mark Hanna's election, his record in the United States senate and his ship subsidy bill. He showed up the falsity of the circulars that had been sent out by the Republicans to delude the farmers on the single tax question, and wound up with an appeal to the voters to rally at the polls and vote the straight Democratic ticket.

During the evening the Johnstown Cornet band rendered some stirring music.

OHIO BRIEFS.

Akron, O., Nov. 3.—Wm. Ostrander, of Cuyahoga Falls, shot himself while lying in bed handling a revolver. His wife was sitting at the side of the bed. County officers are convinced the shooting was accidental.

Norwalk, O., Nov. 3.—The body of Mrs. Lucy McPherson, aged 60, of Steubon, O., was found in the Huron river yesterday afternoon. She had been mentally deranged and had threatened to take her life.

Coshocton, O., Nov. 3.—Mrs. C. B. Ogle, wife of Postmaster Ogle, of Well-honing, was probably fatally burned last night while resins her four year old daughter for another burning home.

Baton, O., Nov. 3.—Joseph Campbell, an ex-deputy county treasurer, was stricken with paralysis while canvassing the county in the interest of the Democratic ticket. His condition is critical.

Lorain, O., Nov. 3.—Nearly 3,000 men are idle in this city because of the almost complete suspension of the Lorain steel plant. The mill will not open until January 1 unless urgent orders are received.

ELECTION BULLETINS

will not be able to cause sufficient delay to avoid polling the entire vote.

ELECTION ROW.

Gate City, Va., Nov. 3.—At Fairview, 20 miles from here in an election row this morning, John Azburn Democratic judge of election, and deputy sheriff, and I. E. Nickles, Democratic judge of election were killed.

COLORADO.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 3.—A light vote is being cast today in this state for justice of the Supreme court, the only office being contested for. The chances for either the Democratic or the Republican candidate to be elected are about equal.

UTAH.

Salt Lake, Utah, Nov. 3.—A heavy vote is being cast in the majority election. The campaign has been a hot one and both parties have left nothing undone to bring out the voters.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT VOTES.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 3.—President Roosevelt arrived here from Washington at 9:45 this morning. A small crowd was gathered on the platform when the chief executive stepped from his car and he was given an enthusiastic greeting. The president went to the polling place, which is in Fisher's hall. The president went up to Inspector Mills and gave his name, receiving ballot 82. Secretary Loeb, who is also a resident of Oyster Bay, received ballot 83. Mr. Roosevelt was in his booth about two minutes.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Nov. 3.—So-called Republican weather prevails throughout the state today, and in the cities and towns the voters will gather at the polls and register their verdict on a full state ticket. On the Republican side, Chairman Talbot expresses the belief that Governor Bates will be re-elected.

The Socialists expect to poll 5,000 votes in the state and 10,000 in Boston. In all of the cities outside of Boston, and in more than 20 towns, the voters will have an opportunity to accept or reject the joint primary election law, better known as the Lane law made mandatory in Boston by the last legislature and optional with other communities of the state. A great deal of excitement prevails over the fact that the state detectives today will be assigned to polling places to prevent fraudulent voting. This is an unusual step. An excuse for the assignment of members of the state force to election duty today is given alike by Governor Bates and Chief Wade to be in response to petitions for assistance from several "voting communities."

The governor issued the orders to Chief Wade because, he says, he received requests for police assistance on the ground that local assemblies were not competent to protect citizens against fraudulent voting.

SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—The mayor-elect in this city today promises to bring out an unusually large vote. Voters began to line up at the polling places at daybreak, and a heavy workingman's vote had been cast an hour after the polls were opened. Mayor Schmitz, the labor nominee, expressed confidence in his re-election. Henry Crocker, the Republican nominee, apparently has little prospect of victory for this reason many Republican votes are being cast for Franklin Lane, the Democratic nominee.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Nov. 3.—It seems nearly certain that Edwin Warfield, Democratic candidate for governor, will carry this city. The Republicans give figures, but hope to carry the state legislature by a majority of six and put McComas back in the United States senate to succeed himself.

IN LITTLE RHODY.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 2.—The Democratic leaders expect to win by about 2,000 plurality, a loss of 5,000 from last year's victory, while Republicans express the belief that Colonel Colt will win by from 5,000 to 7,000 votes. Both parties agree that the Senate will be Republican.

PURDUE STUDENTS

Who Were Injured in the Railroad Wreck Still Hovering Between Life and Death.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3.—Several Purdue students injured in the wreck here Saturday are still hovering between life and death. Hendricks Johnson, of Evansville, has developed acute pneumonia and recovery is not probable. His injuries consist of a badly crushed shoulder and broken legs.

The case of Harry Wright, of Pendleton, is attracting much attention. His back and one leg are broken and his head is badly cut, yet the physicians say that he is improving and may live.

A. L. Holter, of Oberlin, O., who was thought to be fatally injured, is greatly improved.

L. G. Smith, of Lafayette, and O. C. Wright, of Marion, are still in a critical condition.

Coroner Tutewiler, who began an investigation Monday, is receiving hundreds of letters, urging him to fix the blame, so that the proper persons may be punished for the blunder that resulted in the fearful loss of life and injury. Twenty-two people, mostly eye witnesses of the wreck, were examined Monday. The railroad officials will be heard today, but the investigation will probably continue several days. Coroner Tutewiler said: "Our work will be that of an inquest, not of a prosecution. However, we intend to make it so complete that if the guilty party can be shown, evidence enough will be had to secure a conviction in the criminal court."

SUICIDE

Of Wife Murderer When He Was Surrounded by Two Hundred Armed Citizens.

White Pigeon, Mich., Nov. 3.—Clyde Lamb, the farm hand who murdered his wife and fatally wounded her mother last Saturday night, was surrounded in a swamp near here yesterday by two hundred armed citizens and Sheriff Addison.

Though heavily armed, Lamb came out quietly, and at first offered to surrender, but soon remarked: "Well, I've it's Jackson or death," and turned on himself the weapon with which he had killed his wife and fired a bullet into his own brain, dying a few moments later.

While the crowd was viewing the remains, an uncle of the murdered woman attempted to empty his revolver into the corpse, but was prevented by Deputy Gregory.

TOBOSO.

Mr. Darwin Walrath of Hanover and Miss Florence Brill of Red Hand, were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday evening at 4 o'clock. They left Thursday for a visit with Mr. Walrath's sister, north of Columbus. The happy couple have the best wishes of their many friends. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Brill and Mrs. Sarah Stoneburner of Quaker City, attended the wedding.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Hutt was largely attended Thursday. Mrs. Hutt was the eldest daughter of Joseph and Lucy Loughman, both having died several years ago. She leaves a husband, one brother, one sister, an aged grandmother, and a large circle of friends and relatives to mourn her loss. From early childhood Sarah was possessed of a kind and loving disposition which has lasted her through life. Her last days on earth though filled with intense suffering were peaceful and she died with the full assurance of a home in Heaven. Sarah loved to talk with her old schoolmates during her sickness, of the happy days spent at the old Red Hand school house. Interment was made at the Hanover cemetery beside her parents. The friends have the heartfelt sympathy of all in their sad bereavement. Mrs. Hutt was at the time of her death aged 24 years.

Rev. H. L. Sheldon preached a very interesting sermon at this place Sunday.

AMUSEMENTS.

Tonight's engagement at the Auditorium is of more than ordinary interest to the theatre goers. "A Royal Slave" is a beautiful Christian story of old Mexico. A series of pictures of life in that country of romance. Ministers and priests have been unanimous in their praise, and exhorting their congregations to go see the production of "A Royal Slave," because it savors more of the chapel than the theatre. The critics throughout the country for the past two seasons have been raising a great cry with regard to unclean plays. They were undoubtedly right, as two-thirds of the metropolitan productions have catered to the degenerate and unhealthy minds. Therefore "A Royal Slave" breathing honesty, purity and virtue in every line, and teeming with religious fervor is the more desirable after the mess of dramatic rot that has so long infested the American stage. As a Catholic priest remarked after witnessing a performance of "A Royal Slave": "It is not a theatrical show. It is a sermon around which clings the sweetest incense ever wafted over the foot-lights."

Few companies present the array of real talent listed in the cast of "A Royal Slave." It includes such names as Clarence Bennett, Irene Ruckett, Lulu McConnell, Howard Tremaine, Burton S. Nixon, Frederick Seibke, George Castleberry and many others. The fact is a "Royal Slave" is a play every character of which requires an artist for its interpretation, and Messrs Gordon and Bennett never do anything by halves. The artists are there to interpret. The entire production is up to the top mark.

TIM MURPHY FRIDAY.

The coming of Tim Murphy each season is a happy event. It brings sunshine with it. Murphy is the sunshine; he is the embodiment of clean wholesome fun and good nature, he bubbles and effervesces with all the elements of good nature. He is everything that is great among the great actors of today, and this element of greatness has at last become so self evident that two other men equally great in their way, have collaborated in the preparation of a new vehicle to enhance the charm of this truly great American comedian. George V. Hobart and Edward E. Rose are sponsors for "The Man from Missouri," the new comedy in which Tim Murphy is to be seen at the Auditorium on Friday night, Nov. 6. Jim Broncho, the "Man from Missouri," is a new type of comedian—a veritable Remington cowboy, visiting Washington for the first time. It is safe to say that Jim Broncho will soon take his place among the notable heroes of the American stage.

CONSUMPTION CURES FOR ATHLETIC CLUB MEMBERS.

Wauwatosa, Wis., Nov. 3.—Byron A. Morgan, a rich insurance man of Milwaukee, is having his troubles. A Milwaukee paper printed a paid "reading notice" for him and got a consumption cure ad mixed up with the Morgan article. The line of type read:

"One thousand dollars reward for a cure for consumption."
"BYRON A. MORGAN."
Mr. Morgan is a big, healthy looking man, and a member of the Athletic club. His friends are sending him all sorts of "cures"—and Morgan declares newspaper advertising certainly pays.

Mrs. Weisslitz, Buffalo, N. Y., cured of kidney trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Of all the diseases known to which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless prompt and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives. Being fully aware of this, Mrs. Pinkham, early in her career, gave careful study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for women's ailments, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—made sure that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was certain to control that dreaded disease, woman's kidney troubles.

Read What Mrs. Weisslitz Says. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For two years my life was simply a burden. I suffered so with female troubles, and pains across my back and loins. The doctor told me that I had kidney troubles and prescribed for me. For three months I took his medicine, but grew steadily worse. My husband then advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought home a bottle. It is the greatest blessing ever brought to our home. Within three months I was a changed woman. My pain had disappeared, my complexion became clear, my eyes bright, and my entire system in good shape."—Mrs. PAULA WEISLITZ, 176 Seneca St., Buffalo, N. BAPTIST POSITION

Dr. Emory Hunt, President of Denison University, Explains it From Columbus Pulpit.

Dr. Emory W. Hunt, president of Denison university, Granville, O., delivered two powerful sermons Sunday at the First Baptist church in Columbus, which were commented upon as follows by the Columbus Dispatch:

"In the morning he spoke of the Baptist position in the religious world, following, by request, the lines of an address delivered before the Baptist state convention at Delaware, last month. President W. O. Thompson, of the Ohio State university, assisted in the preliminary services. Dr. Hunt's exposition was not made in a controversial spirit. He recognizes the fact that no one of us has all the truth, and that, at the bottom all evangelical denominations are one—all are in sympathy in the work of winning the world to Christ. When he looks for the one controlling, fundamental principle he must go down to the roots, and he finds it in the originality of the individual Christian life. It is that every soul must get its true life directly from God. Christian life is not an imitation—even of Jesus. That is not what it ought to be. Every Christian life is a thing by itself. It is the power of God—the life of God in the soul of man. It is an originality, straight from heaven. It is not inherited. It is not derived from the family. It is regeneration by the Holy Spirit. It is not the result of 'Christian nurture.' These things are not only true, but important. Out of this idea of new and original life comes our idea of baptism. It is emblematic, not of character, but of a new life. It is not a 'mere form,' but a form of immense significance. This is the Baptist position. The individuality of the renewed soul—responsible to no church, to no human being—responsible only to God."

Dr. Hunt's evening sermon, preached from the text, "He came to seek and to save that which was lost," was one of great power and impressiveness.

PLEASANT PARTY

At the Home of W. E. Stone in Honor of That Gentleman's Birthday.

A merry party gathered at the home of Mr. W. E. Stone, the well-known insurance agent, last Thursday evening. That day being Mr. Stone's birthday anniversary, his friends decided to surprise him with a Halloween party, his good wife being taken into the secret. Mr. and Mrs. Stone were invited to spend the evening with a friend, and as soon as they were away from home busy hands were at work decorating the house and preparing the table. The dining room was decorated with chrysanthemums and jack-o'-lanterns. At about 8.30 a member of the family went after Mr. Stone, saying a gentleman wished to see him. Mr. Stone, thinking it was the superintendent of the company, hastened home. When he heard approaching the door, the Richs were turned out and only the weird lights of the jack-o'-lanterns remained.

ed. Upon entering the room Mr. Stone's surprise was complete, and for a few moments he seemed perfectly dazed and was unable to express his surprise. After regaining his composure, however, he gave his self-invited guests a hearty welcome and a very pleasant evening was spent. All the usual Halloween games were played, Mrs. Carl Stone receiving the witches' candle. At eleven o'clock supper was served, which was the most enjoyable feature of the evening. The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Holler Mr. and Mrs. Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. James Coon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. NAVIGATES THE AIR.

Dr. Greth, Who Sailed His Air Ship Over San Francisco.

Dr. August Greth, who recently made a successful ascension in an air ship constructed by himself and in which he sailed over San Francisco for nearly two hours, seems to have solved in many essentials the problem of aerial navigation. That the trip was not a complete success was owing to lack of driving power in the engine.

Dr. Greth's balloon is cigar shaped and has a capacity of 50,000 feet of gas, with a lifting power of about 2,000 pounds. In explaining wherein his flying machine has proved successful when others have failed Dr. Greth says that it is built compactly and is practically all one body, the car being close to the balloon and held rigidly in place. There is no oscillation and no plunging motion; neither is there need of shifting weights, the inventor claiming that he can go all over the car without noticeably affecting the center of gravity.

The car and machinery have a relative position that corresponds with the location of the engines of a steamer. The ship has propellers at the corners of its frame. The axes of the propellers rotate in any direction, and the ship is

Dr. Greth is a Frenchman who has been experimenting with balloons and air ships for twenty years. His machine resembles that of Santos-Dumont in appearance and principle, and the motive power is a twelve horse gasoline engine weighing 500 pounds. The frame weighs about 300 pounds. In the recent trial the total weight carried skyward was about 1,600 pounds.

DR. MILLER

Formerly Pastor of Methodist Church in Newark, Died at His Home, Near Worthington.

The Public Opinion, of Westerville, O., contains an extended account of the death of Rev J. T. Miller, Ph. D., which occurred at his home near Worthington on Wednesday of last week, after an illness of some time with typhoid fever. The funeral was held Friday at the M. E. church, the Rev. Mr. Dick of Columbus, officiating, assisted by Rev. J. W. Atkinson and Rev. J. I. Tyler and other ministers, who were friends and co-workers with the deceased. Dr. Miller was for 50 years a well known and active member of the Ohio Conference of the M. E. church. For seventeen years he was a presiding elder, and during the years 1930-32 he was pastor of the First M.

E. church of Newark. During the past six years he has been living on his place north of Worthington, resting after a long life of usefulness. The citizens of his township had honored him by electing him Justice of the Peace, which office he filled to the entire satisfaction of his constituents.

CLASS RIVALRY

Running High at Denison University--Sophomores Victorious in Monday's Athletic Contest--They Flaunt Big Banner on Broadway.

Granville, O., Nov. 3.—Class spirit is running high at Denison university between the freshmen and sophomore classes. About two weeks ago, as a result of this, two members of the freshman class, Jesse Runnor and Will Sheppard, were spirited away and kept in confinement for several days. This proceeding was naturally attributed to the sophomore class. Yesterday the classes had their final contests in athletics, one being a tug of war and the other a football game, both resulting in victories for the sophomores. Tuesday morning the students and citizens of Granville discovered that some time during the night a sophomore banner had been suspended on a wire extending from the high steeple of the Baptist church to the opposite steeple of the Presbyterian church. The banner is about twelve feet long and has inscribed upon it the cabalistic letters, "D. U., '06," and it hangs over Broadway, the principal street of the village, about 75 feet above the ground. The natural inference is that there are some expert steeple climbers among the members of the sophomore class, and further developments will be watched for with great interest.

TO LEAD SALVATIONISTS IN AMERICA.

SUCCESSOR OF THE LATE CONSUL WILL LIKELY BE THE POPULAR HEAD OF THE ARMY IN CANADA.

Eva Booth, who it is practically settled will succeed Emma Booth-Tucker as head of the Salvation army in the United States, is a daughter of General William Booth, the founder of the army.

Miss Booth is now in charge of the army work in Canada, a field in which she has worked for seven years, having had considerable experience in England and elsewhere prior to that time. She was born in 1865 and is unmarried. Miss Booth is one of the most interesting and talented of the famous family. She has entered heart and soul into the work of the army and she has been marvelously successful in Canada. Her work among women, particularly rescue and slum work, has been fruitful of surprising results. As a speaker she rivals her famous sister, the late Mrs. Booth-Tucker, and she possesses the faculty of drawing people to her and imparting her enthusiasm to them. Her favorite lecture is on army work in the slums and is one of the most fascinating addresses imaginable.

There is no corner of Miss Booth's field that she has not personally visited. During the past summer she went into the wilds of the far northwest and visited all the towns in the Yukon territory. Everywhere she was enthusiastically received. At Dawson she was welcomed by the governor of the territory and was a guest at the governor's mansion during her stay. She went into the mining camps, and it is safe to say that she is today more popular with the miners than any other woman who ever visited the country.

MANSFIELD MAN

Claims to Have Been Robbed of a Pocketbook in Newark Containing $65.

The Mr. Vernon Banner says: "Mr. William A. Harris is the well known traveling salesman for a Mansfield firm, was robbed of about $65 in Newark Saturday evening just as he was about to step on E. & O. train No. 47 en route to Mt. Vernon. Mr. Harris is of the belief that someone pulled his pocketbook from out the inside pocket of his coat. He did not discover the loss until he had boarded the train. Had the robbery occurred a few minutes before the thief would have secured over $300 as Mr. Harris had just sent that amount of money to his firm in Mansfield. The Newark authorities have been informed of the robbery and no doubt an effort will be made to capture the thief."

TREATED

A MAN WHO CAME INTO HIS PLACE TUESDAY

And the Fellow Then Attempted to Kill William Moore, the Proprietor—Police News.

A young man named Behan, who claims to be an installment man, presented himself before Mayor Crilly this morning for trial on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He presented the appearance of a man that had been fooling with the business end of a cyclone, as he sat dangling the remains of a pair of spectacles, the rims and one lens. His face bore the marks of battle, and it was evident that he had been worsted. Of course, he was entirely innocent of any wrong doing, and some one had without provocation set upon him and despoitely used him. This story did not impress the mayor, who continued his case, and soon afterward William Moore, the prosecuting witness, appeared. He straightened things out somewhat when he said that Behan came into his saloon Tuesday evening, drunk, and applied a vile epithet to him. He saw his condition and wishing to avoid trouble, said, "Take a drink with me." He set up the glass and drink, and while his back was turned Behan threw the glass at his head, and then attacked him. It then became necessary to throw Behan out, which was done. John Smith was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

(From the Atchison, Kan. Daily Globe) This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup known as hive syrup and tulu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears, and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.

SOLDIER BOYS

OF OHIO WILL WEAR THE KHAKI UNIFORM.

Governor Nash Has Made Requisition on Uncle Sam for Uniform for Entire Guard.

Governor Nash yesterday made requisition upon the war department for 6000 khaki uniforms for the entire Ohio National Guard.

The Dick bill provides for the equipment of the militia of the various states and under the appropriation of $2,000,000 for this purpose, Ohio's share will exceed $100,000.

So far nothing has been drawn against this amount save medical supplies and about $10,000 worth of tent age.

The khaki uniforms will represent a cost of $20,000. As soon as the war department is supplied with the new style blue uniforms, requisition will be made for them also in behalf of the Ohio citizen soldiery.

The adjutant general's office was notified yesterday that the war department had ready for shipment enough more Krag-Jorgensen rifles to equip the Ohio National Guard. Several companies were not supplied at the time of the state encampment at Newark in August.
